Dr. Valerie Lecouturier, Deputy Director, Virology, at Sanofi Pasteur in Marcy l’Etoile. Dr Valérie Lecouturier obtained an engineer degree in Biochemistry at INSA Lyon, then did a PhD in molecular virology on measles virus at INSERM, Lyon, and a post-doctoral fellowship at University of Montreal on HIV. She joined the Research Department at Sanofi Pasteur Lyon in 2003 to develop an inactivated SARS coronavirus vaccine, and since then, contributed to several emerging or new viral vaccine development, or new vaccine technologies.